

Game-Changing Coatings™

COVID-19 Operational Status Update

Dear SilcoTek customer,

As you may know, Pennsylvania Governor Tom Wolf ordered all non-life-sustaining businesses to close their physical locations starting Thursday, March 19th in an increased effort to slow the spread of COVID-19.

We contacted Pennsylvania government officials immediately upon receiving Governor Wolf's announcement for their comments on SilcoTek's status as a life-sustaining business. Because of the critical role many of our customers play in supporting not just normal everyday life, but particularly in the fight against COVID-19, SilcoTek received confirmation that we are authorized to remain operational. The game-changing properties resulting from SilcoTek's coating processes are considered essential in these trying times for our customers who serve life-sustaining roles around the world. In fact, we are currently expediting orders for coating parts that will go directly into active COVID-19 research efforts.

The safety of SilcoTek employees and their families is still our highest priority. The social distancing measures the entire SilcoTek team has put in place exceed the criteria established by the government. We will continue to monitor updates from public health officials, employ best practices, and continuously make improvements as we work together to stop the spread of this virus.

SilcoTek is proud to be able to continue serving our customers during these challenging and unprecedented times. We are working as hard as ever to maintain the Plus One service you expect from us. We will continue to expedite and prioritize all coating orders for COVID-19 research and containment efforts.

Sincerely,
